

Bethany Malcolm

Bethany says:

I am a freelance artist with over six years experience in the sculptural, fabrication and prop making industry. Since Graduating from University of The Arts London I have gained wide range of skills and pieces I've worked on have been displayed in a variety of settings from Centre de Pompidou to Madame Tussauds attractions.

I have small studio space in north London where I work on my sculptural practice and produce freelance pieces for the entertainment industry. Recently I have started teaching Art at a high school in north London where I hope to create a welcoming inclusive environment particularly for SEN Students.

Dyslexia and Creativity

Dyslexia has played an integral part in my life I received excellent support throughout my school education. Relearning basic phonics at age 11 was a struggle but gave me a stronger ambition to prove people wrong. Finding a safe space in creativity I thrived and I eventually made it into my occupation as an artist.
