

KING'S COLLEGE SCHOOL WIMBLEDON

TEACHER OF LEARNING ENRICHMENT

WELCOME TO KING'S COLLEGE SCHOOL

Thank you for your interest in joining our school community.

As you learn more about us, I hope you will discover that King's is a truly wonderful environment in which to teach, work and learn, with pupils who are inquisitive, creative and eager to learn, on a campus which is well-resourced and recently renewed, and alongside other dedicated staff whose expertise, care and commitment lie at the foundation of everything we do.

King's is one of the most successful schools in the world, and our vibrant and caring community is a special place to learn and grow for boys aged 7-18 and girls aged 16-18. With over 1,500 pupils and approximately 450 staff, we are located in one of the most attractive and peaceful parts of London, opposite 1,140 acres of countryside of Wimbledon and Putney Commons and just a short walk from the picturesque Wimbledon Village.

Our school was founded in 1829 by Royal Charter as the junior department of the university, King's College London, and as such, intellectual aspiration and a progressive spirit are our heritage. Today, we offer an education of the whole person, in Mind, Spirit and Heart, the enduring ethos of our foundation. Our guiding mission is to look outwards, to the world beyond school, and to life at 25: we look to the lives we are preparing our young people to lead, so that when the time comes, they are ready to forge the pathway they choose, and to make a purposeful impact.

We aim for each of our pupils to enjoy an exhilarating adventure of learning and to pursue academic excellence within a fun, caring, welcoming environment. Academic outcomes at A level, IB and GCSE consistently place King's amongst the very top schools nationally and globally, with over half of A level and IB grades at A* or equivalent last summer, and we were delighted to be the highest placed independent co-educational day school, and to be named Independent International Baccalaureate School of the Year, in The Sunday Times Parent Power 2025.

Supporting our pupils to grow strong in spirit, in the shared values and qualities of character that will ground them, is equally important at King's. Kindness, respect and support for one another, a broad-minded outlook and a commitment to inclusivity, are central to our community, as is the co-curriculum, which enables pupils to develop broad skills and resilience as well as to discover lifelong passions through clubs and societies, CCF, Duke of Edinburgh, sport, the arts, and community partnerships.

The next few years will be a very exciting time for us as we enter the next chapter of the school's strategic development, and as we seek to strengthen our community in preparation for our 200th anniversary in 2029. We hope you consider joining us for this adventure.

Dr Anne Cotton
Head

THE ROLE

We are currently seeking to appoint a full-time Learning Enrichment teacher from September 2025.

This is an exciting opportunity to join an outstanding department, and to shape support for pupils within our warm and dynamic community.

This role has become available due to expansion of our Learning Enrichment department.

Key responsibilities include the following:

Teaching and support for teaching

- Delivering specialist 1:1 and group teaching to support pupils; this role will be primarily focused on senior school pupils (years 7-13), although it may involve some support for junior school pupils (years 3-6)
- Preparing individually tailored lesson plans for each pupil, and organising or creating teaching resources as appropriate
- Preparing personal teaching timetables (which vary weekly)
- Target-setting and undertaking detailed evaluation of lessons with follow-up plans
- Conducting in-class observation of pupils
- Running workshops for pupils, for instance, in relation to communication skills, study and revision skills

Screening, assessments, pupil profiles and access arrangements

- Reading specialist reports and implementing appropriate support, and exam access arrangements if appropriate
- Preparing and updating pupil profiles and liaising with teaching staff on specific pupil requirements
- Supporting the head of department to provide written feedback and information for external assessors on individual pupils receiving support when required
- Responding to referrals from pupils, teachers and parents
- Carrying out and/or supporting with the administration group screening assessments
- Helping to maintain and update pupil records and the LE register
- Invigilating internal and entrance exams
- Supporting applicants with admissions-related processes requiring access arrangements

Community and stakeholder engagement

- Regularly liaising with teaching staff to monitor progress and provide relevant updates or specialist advice
- Regularly liaising with parents via email, phone calls or face-to-face meetings
- Attending weekly departmental meetings and other regular meetings in the junior and senior schools to discuss and review pupils receiving support (including head of house and head of year meetings)
- Contributing and supporting with the promotion of greater understanding and awareness of neurodivergent learners within the King's community

THE PERSON

Person specification

We are looking for an enthusiastic Learning Enrichment teacher who is passionate about supporting pupils with learning needs, and keen to see all students develop into fully independent learners.

The successful candidate will have:

- An eagerness to inspire and support all pupils to flourish and reach their academic potential
- Strong pastoral instincts and a commitment to excellent pastoral care and safeguarding for all pupils
- A good Honours degree
- Some experience of supporting pupils with ADHD and ASD
- A thorough knowledge of the principles underpinning the support of pupils with a diverse range of needs
- An excellent understanding of the latest policies and legislation relating to SEND
- Excellent communication skills
- An ability to work well with others
- Good ICT, organisation and administrative skills
- A personal commitment to ongoing professional development
- The ability to take the initiative, and demonstrate resourcefulness, resilience and adaptability

The following would be advantageous:

- Prior experience of supporting pupils in a learning support role within a secondary school environment
- A teaching qualification in SpLD, at a minimum of Level 5, or equivalent
- Prior experience of working with high achieving, academically able pupils
- Prior experience of supporting EAL pupils
- A desire to contribute to the school's thriving co-curricular programme

HOW TO APPLY

Closing date: Tuesday 18th March 2025 at 9am

Interviews: Monday 24th March 2025

To apply for this role, please register your details online via our website www.kcs.org.uk (under useful information / career opportunities). We are happy to reimburse reasonable travel expenses.

WORKING AT KING'S

Our staff community is welcoming, energetic and vibrant. Within a well-established atmosphere of kindness, cooperation and trust, there is a “can-do” attitude, coupled with high levels of emotional intelligence, good humour and mutual support. The school's reputation for academic excellence and strong pastoral care is built on the dedication and skills of every member of staff.

We seek to recruit well-qualified and enthusiastic staff who demonstrate knowledge of, and passion for, their area of expertise and contribute to the rich wider life of the school. All staff contribute to the ongoing development of the school, and give freely of their time outside timetabled lessons, committing to co-curricular activities and helping individual pupils with their academic progress. Many take clubs, societies, trips and sports teams at evenings, weekends and during the school holidays. The strength of our pastoral system is founded upon all teaching staff making a significant pastoral contribution as a tutor to specific group of pupils. Tutor groups are year-group specific in the lower school, and become a vertical system from fourth form upwards.

In return, the school provides staff with a wide variety of benefits and opportunities, including:

- Competitive salaries well above London and national averages
- Automatic enrolment into the Teachers' Pension Scheme or optional inclusion into the King's defined contribution pension scheme for teaching staff
- Opportunities to develop professionally and a supportive approach to staff training and development. In addition to our bespoke programme for unqualified teachers which ultimately leads to QTS and full statutory support for all Early Career Teachers, the Sapienter Develop online platform comprises a range of courses based on the latest research and insight in education and leadership, and provide support to colleagues undertaking postgraduate and further study.
- A focus on staff wellbeing, family friendly policies, and bespoke support for new members of staff; all are guided through their first year by a variety of colleagues, including the director of staff welfare, their line manager and a mentor
- Access to BUPA and Aviva employee assistance programmes, and the BUPA healthcare cash plan
- Free use of the King's Club, including access to the swimming pool, gym, tennis/squash courts and group exercise classes
- Free lunch, tea, coffee and other refreshments during term time
- A Surface Book Laptop
- Shuttle buses from Wimbledon station
- Cycle to work scheme
- Fee remission for children of staff (subject to the usual entry requirements and space being available) pro rata
- Invitations to school productions, concerts and events during the year

WORKING AT KING'S - STAFF PROFILES

"Since starting at King's, I have thoroughly enjoyed working with extremely able and enthusiastic students and colleagues. The academic challenge central to the school's ethos means that work in and outside the classroom is always stimulating and fast-paced. I have had the opportunity to take on new roles in the school early in my time at King's, and appreciate seeing the variety of routes that my career could take here. Having come from an IB only school, I have felt supported taking on the A Level. The school also has its own internal programme of professional development which I have benefitted from, and the range of short courses on offer mean that I can stretch different areas of my professional practice."

- Dr Cheung
Head of French, Academic Enrichment Coordinator and Equality and Diversity Mentor

"I love working at King's. I have been supported in a variety of roles in over a decade at King's, including head of department, head of section, and acting operational deputy head. There is a real value put on staff and pupils having fun and enjoying school: academic excellence is never put ahead of pastoral support or co-curricular involvement. Alongside this, there is a real sense of teamwork and a desire amongst colleagues to support all members of our community in achieving their aims. Every year I am struck by the kindness of colleagues, the ambition of the pupils and the opportunities available to all. King's is a great place to work, but it never stands still nor rests on its laurels."

- Mr Renwick
Head of Admissions and Teacher of Theology and Philosophy

"King's is a dynamic, positive school committed to the wellbeing of all. Staff-pupil relationships are exceptionally good, and members of staff are unfailingly supportive. Pupils are motivated and keen to learn; it is stimulating to work in an academically fulfilling environment. The pastoral system is strong, and I find my role as a tutor the most rewarding. There are many opportunities for professional development, either through in-house courses or via new roles – indeed, I have enjoyed many different responsibilities. To teach and learn in beautiful surroundings and with outstanding facilities makes working at King's a joy."

- Ms Davis
Director of Staff Welfare, Bursary Engagement Officer and Teacher of History

"Prior to joining King's I had not stayed at any school longer than three years; seventeen years later and I am still here. King's is by far the best school and environment I have ever worked at. Everyone from pupils to teaching staff are kind, welcoming and above all else they all look out for one another. I have learnt how to be a good teacher and leader at King's and been given opportunities to further develop my career others can only dream off. I love being a part of this community"

- Ms Chan Ramgoolam
Director of Public Occasions

"I started King's as a Graduate Sports Assistant and then after completing my teaching training, I spent four years as a junior school PE and Games teacher before progressing into the senior school to become the Head of Football. Throughout my time at King's, I have been supported by outstanding colleagues and the progress I have made is down to their dedication and invaluable advice. The work I have done with the ACS on diversity and inclusion has been hugely rewarding; the society aims to ensure all pupils feel valued in our community leading to better outcomes for everyone".

- Mr Joshua Barrington
Head of Football and Head of the African Caribbean Society

THE DEPARTMENT - LEARNING ENRICHMENT

The Learning Enrichment (LE) department aims to ensure that all pupils have full access to the curriculum and are enabled to achieve their potential regardless of their level of need or difficulty.

Individual needs are carefully assessed and monitored by working in close partnership with pupils, parents, teachers and, where appropriate, outside agencies, specialists and external assessors to ensure the correct provision is in place.

Pupil support through the LE department can be provided on a short or long-term basis depending on individual needs. Support may be provided as a result of screening, internal or external assessment or as a result of referrals by pupils, staff or parents.

Support is offered across a variety of areas, including organisation and time management, essay planning and structure, revision methods and exam technique, language and communication skills, focus and concentration, or tips for motivation and wellbeing. Support sessions also aim to build self-esteem and resilience, while also encouraging greater self-awareness and independence to help equip pupils in preparing for life beyond King's.

The Learning Enrichment department supports processes relating to the provision of access arrangements, for admissions tests, internal and external examinations.

The Learning Enrichment department operates an "open door" policy, meaning that staff, parents and any pupil can seek support and advice whenever required.

The department currently includes the full-time posts of head of department and deputy head of department, four part-time teachers (including the junior school SENDCo), one LE assistant, and a full-time LE administrator. Four staff members are qualified access arrangement assessors.

This appointment comes at an exciting time of the expansion for the department as we seek to ensure that the school leads the way in the independent sector in its Learning Enrichment provision, and to further develop our understanding of SEND and neurodiversity across the whole school community.

SAFEGUARDING AT KING'S

At King's, we recognise our moral and statutory responsibility to safeguard and promote the welfare of all pupils.

We make every effort to provide an environment in which children and adults feel safe, secure, valued and respected, and feel confident to talk if they are worried, believing they will be effectively listened to.

We are alert to the signs of abuse, neglect and exploitation, and follow our procedures to ensure that children receive effective support and protection. Child protection forms part of the school's safeguarding responsibilities.

We follow the Merton Children's Safeguarding Partnership procedures and have several policies and procedures in place which contribute to our safeguarding commitment, including our Child Protection & Safeguarding Policy. A copy of this policy is available on our school website: <https://www.kcs.org.uk/safeguarding-at-kings>. The purpose of this policy is to provide staff, volunteers, and governors with the framework they need in order to keep children safe and secure in our school. The policy also informs parents and carers about how we will safeguard their children whilst they are in our care.

The school is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff, governors and volunteers to share this commitment. Those applying to work at King's will be required to undergo rigorous child protection screening; pre-employment checks include (as relevant to the role and individual):

- past employers (references will be requested for shortlisted candidates prior to interview in line with Keeping Children Safe in Education)
- the Disclosure and Barring Service (including a barred list check)
- a prohibition from teaching check
- a Section 128 check (prohibition from management or governance)
- identity checks
- right to work checks
- overseas checks
- verification of qualifications and/or professional status
- fitness to work checks

This post is exempt from the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act (ROA) 1974.

INCLUSION AT KING'S

King's aims to be a diverse and equitable environment where all staff and pupils feel they belong. The community aims to foster an ethos of social awareness and respect for difference, creating a welcoming and inclusive culture where every member of our community is valued and respected as their authentic self, regardless of difference. Establishing this sense of belonging and community is central to the ethos of King's and is outlined in the 'Inclusivity at King's' statement.

The school has developed a comprehensive equality, diversity and inclusion (EDI) programme that spans all areas of school life, including our wider school community. Our director of EDI oversees our work in this crucial area, working closely with our EDI mentors who support pupils around issues including sexuality, gender and race.

There are a wide range of thriving pupil advocacy and discussion groups who meet regularly, including our African Caribbean society, our East and South-East Asian society, our Pride group, our neurodiversity society, our interfaith discussion group and Her'd, our group for girls. Alongside this, the school holds regular talks and workshops on EDI topics to ensure that inclusivity remains a central part of the daily life at school and is at the heart of all that we do.

Further information about equality, diversity and inclusivity at King's is available on our website at <https://www.kcs.org.uk/equality-diversity-and-inclusivity-at-kings>

King's College School is fully committed to the principles of equality, diversity and inclusivity in its recruitment of teaching and support staff.

If you have any support requirements that require adjustments to be made during the recruitment process, please let us know in advance so that any support, aids or adaptations can be put in place to assist you. Examples can include, but are not limited to, a request for extra time, a wheelchair accessible interview room or alternative format of assessment papers such as audible, Braille or large print versions.

LIVING AND WORKING IN WIMBLEDON

Wimbledon is famous for its annual Grand Slam tennis tournament, but that is not the only thing that makes living and working in Wimbledon an attractive proposition.

The area is one of the safest parts of London and provides a wonderful mix of town and Village life. The streets are bustling and lined with bars, restaurants and shops and the charming children's Polka Theatre is situated in the centre of Wimbledon. King's is located on the edge of Wimbledon Common, at the beginning of one of the largest areas of green, recreational space in the whole of London. The Common, which extends to Richmond Park, is home to a 19th century windmill and an Iron Age fort.

One of the best things about working in Wimbledon is its connectivity. Wimbledon station is located in zone 3, approximately 10 minutes from Clapham Junction and 20 minutes from London Waterloo. There are regular trains to numerous destinations, including Kingston, Epsom and Richmond. Wimbledon can also be reached by tube, via the District line, and by tram, which connects to places such as Croydon and Beckenham. King's is also in a convenient location for road users, with its proximity to the A3 providing an excellent link to the M25. There is a morning shuttle bus for staff which runs from Wimbledon Station to the school.

Although property prices are high in and around Wimbledon Village, there are affordable options a little further away. Many staff choose to live in Central and South Wimbledon or Raynes Park, which is a 15 minute walk from King's. Other nearby options include Motspur Park, Worcester Park, Clapham, Tooting and Earlsfield but plenty of colleagues prefer to commute from Surrey, where Esher, Epsom and Ashstead are popular choices.
